

Bank on Sterling for Safety this Spring

With the weather finally good enough to get out and about, now is the time to get those outside jobs done. But this also means it's vital to lock up safe and sound when you've finished. Police figures show the summer months are the worst time for garden theft, and thieves are taking both furniture and tools!

As more people invest in high quality garden furniture, it has become more attractive to burglars. The best way to make sure its stays put is with security cables and chains. Sterling's Link & Lock Security Cables are ideal. Made from tough braided steel but with a protective vinyl sleeve, these provide excellent security whilst also protecting paintwork or surfaces. Coupled with a tough padlock, Link & Lock makes it the work of a moment to make garden furniture difficult to move.

But for added security, inside or out, why not add a Sterling Security Anchor? This means that you can lock items not just to each other, but to an immovable object, like the wall or the ground! Perfect for both inside and outside use, Security Anchors make maximum security both easy and affordable.

Did You Know?

Statistics show that houses with even simple security measures - like good locks and padlocks on gates - are ten times less likely to fall victim to burglars. Starter security can be as simple as a tough padlock and a hasp on the shed door. And with Sterling it could be the best value investment you make!
