

Stash the Cash from sales of Sterling's new Cash Boxes

When it comes to managing money at home or in the office – Cash Boxes are the most practical way of storing small change, keeping hold of currency and looking after larger notes. It's amazing how many situations need a cash box, from raffles to car boot sales; pocket money to managing the company float. Sterling Locks is launching two new Cash Boxes to join its existing range. The latest designs come in a matt finish and a choice of colours, offering straightforward but practical additions to the standard Cash Box configuration.

The Sterling CB02C 8" combination lock Cash Box has a removable partitioned tray and strong recessed metal handle. The combination lock ensures only authorised code carriers can access the money without the need to share out multiple keys. The removable partitioned tray enables cash to be divided into appropriate denominations, notes and coins. It's suitable for home and office use.

The Sterling CB03GB 10" Cash Box has an integral 8 compartment coin counter tray and a separate note tray which is ideal for organising loose cash. Its robust design means it is suitable for transporting money between locations – such as home from shows and events, between office locations or for trades with cash sales.

A well designed cash box is such a simple solution to storing money and Sterling's latest additions are perfect for creating extra sales opportunities for retailers.
