

Stylish, Compact and Discreet: Sterling's New Digital Door Lock

Sterling has added to its digital security range by launching a new compact digital door lock. With a stylish contemporary look, the smaller rounded design is available in the popular satin chrome finish and is ideal for discreetly restricting access to low traffic areas, inside and out.

Known for its extensive security solutions, Sterling offers a range of tough push button digital door locks, which are perfect for customers looking to restrict access to low traffic areas. Weather resistant and independently tested, Sterling digital door locks offer access to code holders without the need for spare keys – security you can rely on. They are fully and easily resettable, offering thousands of combinations and are ideal for offices, banks, schools, flats apartments and restricted areas. The new smaller design presents a lower cost option which also has the same footprint as other compact digital locks, making it an easy replacement.

Like all Sterling products, the compact digital door lock offers high quality at a great value price. Sterling prides itself on helping retailers to maximise on their sales, so to find out how Sterling could help your business, why not call 0113 250 3603 or visit www.sterlinglocks.com ENDS
